

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

There was interest here Monday in the Connecticut Company's announcement that passenger service between Danielson and East Killingly will not be suspended today in accordance with the announcement made some time since. East Killingly people particularly will rejoice over the fact that they are not to be cut from the service for some time to come, and that revives the hope that some way may be found to permanently continue operation of the road running through that place.

It was stated here Monday by a representative of the Connecticut company that it will continue to operate cars between Danielson and East Killingly but how long the service will be continued is not stated.

Providence papers of recent date have stated that D. P. Smith, who had been purchased by the Providence and Danielson road has guaranteed the federal receiver against any deficit in operating the line up to October 1, so it is likely that the Danielson-East Killingly line will continue to operate at least until that time, and it is hoped for a longer period.

Service over the line today and hereafter will be conducted by the Connecticut company. All freight business having been suspended. As the new schedule of the Connecticut company goes into effect today there will be some change in the running time. Beginning today cars will leave here for Providence as follows: 6:30 a. m., 8:25 a. m., 10:25 a. m., 2:35 p. m., 4:25 p. m., 6:25 p. m. In addition a car will leave here at 7:35 for East Killingly, by this car, on the return trip, affording accommodation for school children coming to Danielson.

It was suggested that there is a possibility of having the fast freight service between Danielson and Providence restored and that the Connecticut company is interested here and has been petitioned to that end. No definite assurance has been given from official quarters that this would be done, but the comment has been made that Danielson and East Killingly, who have used the line have made no effort to have the service continued.

Sharp objection is being expressed to the practice of parking motor vehicles on the southern side of the Danielson Trust Company building on the route leading from Main street to the Pellet building. This is a narrow and busy street and the parking of cars is causing congestion to traffic and the attendant inconvenience is causing a strong protest.

Hundreds of Killings's children will return to their studies today (Tuesday) after the long vacation. It is almost certain that the registration of pupils in all of Killings's schools will be greater this term than ever before in the history of the schools. The schools will open today at Connecticut village where the Connecticut Mills company has generously provided quarters for young children who otherwise would be obliged to travel each day to South James' parochial school, about a mile and a half away.

Gamblers were devoting at least a part of the holiday period to games of chance before Justice Frank Bedard on the West Side of the city. Monday afternoon that he will have three more candidates for fines before the court in the very near future.

The three who have not paid as yet were members of a group of six young men who were engaged in a quiet game of street football on the side of a street light on Middle street, West Side, about 11 p. m. Sunday. The American Besette, who was accompanied by Grand Juror Samuel Boyd at the time, said that he was not in the game but that the boys were rolling a ball and he told them to go to their homes with the understanding that they were to appear in court Monday. Three of them did appear but the others appeared to be taking their own time about coming to see the justice.

Four other men who were playing cards in an upstairs room in what is known as the Theodore Kennedy place on the West Side received a visitation from Constable Besette about 4 a. m. Monday. Mr. Besette, who is nearly blind, heard noise and started out. He located his quarry and notwithstanding the fact that he was bare-footed and hatless at the time he succeeded in gaining admittance and securing admission from the men who had been playing cards. This group paid a total of fines and costs amounting to about $50, while the grand jury assessed them of about $114.45 each.

There is local interest in the announcement that General Albert D. Taylor, of Hartford, has been elected to the position of president of the American Legion, a graduate nurse of the Hartford Hospital Training School for Nurses, General Taylor is the president of the American Legion, a graduate nurse of the Hartford Hospital Training School for Nurses, General Taylor is the president of the American Legion, a graduate nurse of the Hartford Hospital Training School for Nurses.

Miss Black was graduated some time ago from the nursing school and for a time lived at the Nurses' club in Hartford. For about a year, Miss Black resided at the Nurses' club on West Main street, the successor to the other institution. She is popular with and highly esteemed by the other members of the club, who have only one more member, and she is most interested to hear of her coming marriage.

Judge W. Foster Woodward, C. A. Hamilton, J. Howard Burdick, Adolph Bernier and William Gaffney left early this morning for the annual convention of the State Firemen's association, opening in Hartford. Judge Woodward is president of the association and Mr. Hamilton a member of the committee on resolutions. Burdick represents the Captain Putnam Engine company, Mr. Bernier the Hook and Ladder company, Mr. Gaffney will represent the Vauxhall Fire department at the convention.

Goodness had an exceedingly interesting and well attended observance of Labor Day. A programme that provided for something doing about every minute from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. made the annual field day one of the most successful on record there. The day's events opened with a parade of horribles. The programme included about every variety of field day race and contest, with events for men and women, for boys and girls, and there were entries galore to compete for the splendid list of prizes offered by the Goodness company. Among the Boy Scouts' band of Fall River featured the day.

Members of the American Legion and ex-service men gathered in numbers at the body of Mrs. Margaret Darmer, who died at Norwich and for whom services were held here Sunday, will be taken to Darien, this state, today (Tuesday) for burial.

Robert Burns of New York and Miss Kathleen Burns of Hartford were holiday guests of relatives in Danielson.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Witter and Miss Katherine D. Witter were among Danielson people attending the New London county fair at Norwich on Labor Day.

PUTNAM

Among the holiday visitors to Putnam was Ignacy Wiskacy. He spent the day at the police station. On an afternoon car he was taken back to Norwich State Hospital, from which he escaped on Sunday. Captain J. H. Bulger was informed. Wiskacy first attracted attention while roaming about the streets Sunday evening. Officer Chandler noticed that the man acted somewhat queerly and seemed to be particularly interested in motor vehicles parked about the business section. The officer's first impression was that Wiskacy might be an automobile thief, as he was dressed in a suit and tie and had a pocket full of corn, nuts, hairpins, magazines and a quantity of loose change. He also had what looked like half a pillow slip filled with sliced apples.

A monogram on the man's shirt gave a clue, and indicated that he was an escaped inmate of the Norwich institution and a telephone conversation established this to be the case.

This should prove a busy Tuesday morning in the Putnam city court, for six men will answer to charges that have been preferred against them since the week-end. None of the sextette were held at the police station Sunday, all having given satisfactory guarantees of their appearance today. Five of the men will be charged with having been intoxicated.

James Houghton, who lives in the Quade section, will be charged with a violation of the motor vehicle laws.

Cases assigned to be heard in the superior court in this city today (Tuesday) will not go to trial and the juryman who was to try them have been notified not to put in an appearance.

In the case of the Automobile Insurance company vs. Napoleon Moore, because the plaintiff, a resident of this city, has demanded that an automobile that figures in the case be brought to the court in order that the court and juryman may have a chance to see it. This car was one of those seized here last winter when officers were rounding up cars in the city. The car was sold, and the man now owning the machine is off on a tour. Another case assigned for today was that of the Firemen's association vs. Jesse Rich of this city. One of the principal witnesses in this case is ill, so the trial also must be delayed.

Members of the Putnam Country club put in a very enjoyable holiday at their links south of the city.

The fall and winter schedule of service recently announced by the Connecticut company becomes effective on the local lines today (Tuesday).

At the held day events arranged by the Goodness Mills company at Goodness Labor day, Putnam was well represented.

Hundreds of young people will go back to their studies this morning, when the schools throughout the town will open for the fall term. School officials are anticipating a heavier registration than ever before. St. Mary's parochial school, as well as the public schools, will begin its sessions today.

Another Auger, one of a pair of starters that left this city at 10:30 Labor day morning, for the annual race on the north shore of Alexander's lake, a distance of about five miles, made the trip in 11 minutes and 15 seconds, the distinction of being the only one to finish the run, which did not seem to find much favor from the standpoint of competitors. The American Legion members, who were having a field day at the lake, were interested in the race. Mr. and Mrs. George Bromley, who were united in marriage by Rev. Augustus Lee, of the Methodist church, were the guests of honor at the wedding. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baisley, of Putnam, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baisley, of Putnam.

Ensign William Rafferty, T. S. N., who has just returned from the summer cruise of the Annapolis, is with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rafferty, of Grove street. He has a month's leave of absence.

It was announced here Monday that passenger service on the Danielson Providence line of the Rhode Island company would not be suspended today, as had been previously arranged. The freight service, in which this line is engaged, will continue until further notice.

Editor C. R. Johnson of a Franklin, Mass., paper recently has been a visitor with his wife, Mrs. W. H. Taylor at Hartford. Messrs. Johnson and Taylor were in the city on business.

Leonard H. Heald, of North Woodstock, secretary of the state board of agriculture, has just completed a survey of the condition of crops throughout Connecticut. This survey shows that the state's crops are in good condition. The survey shows that the state's crops are in good condition. The survey shows that the state's crops are in good condition.

MISS HARRIET BROMLEY, widow of George Bromley, died at her home on Tracy avenue Monday morning. She was 78 years old and although living alone, received every care from Dr. and Mrs. S. H. Holmes and Mrs. Augustus Lee. Mrs. Bromley was the daughter of Emmeline and Eliza Baker and was born in Montville, June 15, 1842.

Her husband, George Bromley, died eight or nine years ago. Mrs. Bromley was so beloved by her friends that she was called "Ma Bromley" and she was all that the name implies. Lending her only child at the age of eleven, she was especially thoughtful of those in sorrow or trouble. One of the finest of Christian characters she held a prominent place in the Methodist church, which church she joined thirty years ago. She owned a cottage at the Williamantic Camp ground and had attended all the camp meetings since they were held there. She is the last of thirteen children and is survived by two nieces, Mrs. Reuben Austin of Westley and Mrs. Frank Baisley, and by a nephew, Franklin Comstock, of Plainfield, N. Y.

She was a member of the Gardner class of the Methodist church and of its various societies. She was a charter member of the Putnam Circle of the King's Daughters, but for the last few years had not kept up the membership as she was unable to attend the meetings.

Mrs. Nelson Mott went to Boston to see her grandmother, Mildred E. Sunday morning, called there by the Mott's daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Mott.

Misses Bertha and Irene Belcher of Hartford and Miss Edith Burdick of Mystic spent the week end at W. R. Burdick's.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Alrich and son of Lyndonville, Vt., were week-end guests at the Methodist church. Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Constock and two children have returned to Audubon, N. Y.

Mrs. Thomas Noonan of Chicopee, Mass., is visiting her mother, Mrs. Walter L. Lister.

Mrs. Margaret Shea Dolan of Westbury spent Sunday with Miss Mary Foley, in Fanning Court.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Flynn had as guests Sunday, Miss Helen Flynn and Mrs. Dennis Donovan of Norwich and Miss Margaret Tothill of Bristol.

Miss Verma Hall and Yvonne Bryant went to Baltic Wednesday to take up the course of study at the Academy of the sciences.

USE BOSTON STORE LUGGAGE

As a true Norwichite, be a credit to the town by having all your traveling equipment of the Boston Store class. The possession of Boston Store Luggage stamps the possessor as being of the elect—one who knows a good thing when he sees it.

It is just like the clothes you wear—they must be smart in appearance, and yet must have the wearing qualities which will stand long service. Luggage should express your personality, as does your clothing, and must have a personality of its own.

BOSTON STORE LUGGAGE HAS CLASS

BOSTON STORE LUGGAGE WEARS WELL

BOSTON STORE LUGGAGE COSTS LESS

There are some very excellent Fibre Steamer Trunks with heavy slats all the way round to give them added strength. They look well and they will give you good service. Among the Steamer Trunks with canvas covers you will find one especially good model. Heavily slatted, it is bound all around the edge with vulcanized fibre, and has a riveted, fibre center band. There are three sizes in this particular style—the 36-inch at $14.00, the 34-inch at $12.25, and the 32-inch at $12.50.

VULCANIZED Fibre Steamer Trunks are more used than any other kind, as their strength and neat appearance places them in the front rank. They are made of hard fibre, with bound edges and are riveted throughout. The steel reinforcements are heavily plated with brass and add to the appearance of these trunks. They are very durable, of high quality and you will note that the prices are very low. We sell the 36-inch for $18.00, the 34-inch for $17.50 and the 32-inch for only $17.00. We have many other Steamer Trunks, variously fitted in all prices from $21.50 to $39.00.

HAND Luggage, too, must have your attention if you are going to do any traveling. Appearance counts for a great deal, but back of that it should be of strength and quality which will insure long service. Dollar for dollar Boston Store Luggage will prove superior. We know. See the Boston Bags, every one of which is made of cowhide, the prices starting as low as $4.75 and running up to $11.00. Then there are the handsome Cowhide Traveling Bags in various styles and sizes from $7.50 to $30.00—after that those of Fabrikoid, looking like leather, and with wonderful wearing qualities, priced from $5.00 to $10.00.
